

The background features several blue, spiky virus particles of varying sizes, representing COVID-19, scattered across a light blue gradient. On the right side, a large orange umbrella with a white cross in the center is held over a group of stylized human silhouettes. The silhouettes include a young child, a woman, a man in a suit holding the umbrella, an elderly man with a cane, an elderly woman with a cane, and a young girl with a bow in her hair.
